Inside A/C by: Larry Weir

Mannheim Steamroller continues to roll on with their latest in "Teardrops..." (American Gramophone) and it's another strong week for Stacia and her "Angel" (Raystone). Other notables on the move include Celine Dion's "I Drove All Night" ((Epic) and Taylor Barton with "Not The Kind You Keep" (Green Mirror).

Newcomer Ryan Montana continues strong with his "Use Me" (Sota) showing some strength up on our AC40 charts. This multi-talented recording artists has just completed a video for this Bill Withers remake and is off and running with a very promising career. Ryan is not only a great singer but he's an accomplished musician as well. Ripe records is all smiles with their latest from Jaimie Lee, "Dance With Me" continuing to do well on the format. We've received a lot of great comments on her appearance for the cover of New Music Weekly several weeks back and all of us are thrilled to see this former Future Hits artist doing so well. What does Lynyrd Skynyrd, the Marshall Tucker Band, .38 Special, and Dan Baird of the Georgia Satellites have in common? Well they have all had some past chart activity but are now included in an eclectic tribute of Hank Williams Jr. songs. "Today, Songs Of Hank Williams Jr." , on Warner Bros./Curb Records hits stores with an impressive musical entourage to pay tribute to 5-time Entertainer of the Year Hank Williams Jr. Among the rowdy friends on the Hank Jr. musical train are country power hitters Alan Jackson and Montgomery Gentry, new wave makers on the country field Trick Pony, Blake Shelton, Dusty Drake, and Darryl Worley as well as a name forever chiseled in the Mt. Rushmore of country music George Jones. What makes Hank Jr. "Hank" is the fact that his music so effortlessly erased the lines between country and southern rock. Thus listeners to this collection can tune in and turn on to the likes of some great pop and country artists. And if it's a great mix of music you're looking for, look no further than our Future Hits volume #12 that will be on your desk by next week!
